

Title: The Real Goal of Noble Professions.

People with noble professions such as soldiers, clergymen and doctors do not prioritize money over their purpose of profession. They may like to earn money from their professions but their main focus is to serve better in their professions, which gives a useful impact. The pursuit of money is not their primary goal but secondary after of pursuing their profession. The main purpose