If one do not get attached with their life, if one gets teary eyes by the fear of Allah, if the idea of hell makes one afraid, if one worship Allah the way it should be done, if one tends to do good deeds and restrict themselves from evil doings, then indeed they are righteous. Some people are actually righteous and some pre-tend to be. A person who is righteous falls among the lucky one's. It is not easy to become a righteous person as it demands continuous struggle and purification of heart.
