

History is replete with successful people whose lives began in difficult circumstances, but over time, they became renowned and accomplished. Success, fame and respect are never gift-wrapped, though wealth can be handed on a silver platter if inherited from your forefathers. With wealth, you can buy mundane things, but not happiness. Sometimes, it takes decades to earn respect, while notoriety and

History is replete with exemplary individuals who commenced their lives in exceedingly challenging circumstances, yet ultimately became illustrious and renowned personalities.

Success, esteem, and fame cannot be bestowed upon you effortlessly; only wealth can be inherited if you have ancestral assets.

For this, it is also essential that your predecessors have left you some property, only then can you acquire wealth. With wealth, you can buy worldly possessions, but you cannot buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes numerous years for a person to earn respect or fame, and it takes merely a moment to lose it by getting into a dispute or by committing a shameful act.
