Title: A Pious Man and the Angel

One night, a pious man woke up from a deep sleep. He found an angel writing down the names of the people, who love God, in his book. Upon asking, the angel told him that his name was not written in the list. However, the man asked the angel to write his name among those people who love God's mankind. Next night, the angel came and showed him a list. His name was written at the top of list who are blessed by God's love!
