History is full of the examples of those people who started their journey with full of difficulties but they proved to be the most successful people in world. One doesn't get success, respect and fame in the plate, only wealth is possible if your ancestors had it in ample amount. However, wealth cannot keep you inner happiness but only the worldly material. Sometimes it takes 5 years to earn respect but it doesn't take a second to convert it into disgrace and making it controversial.

Translation should be idiomatic
