History abounds with the underprivileged, who defied their fortune and became renowned and successful. You are not served on a plate with success, honor, and fame. You can only attain wealth easily if you inherit it. With wealth, you can buy earthly pleasures, but happiness. It takes decades to earn respect, but only a moment to tarnish that long-standing reputation.

History is replete with exemplary individuals who commenced their lives in exceedingly challenging circumstances, yet ultimately became illustrious and renowned personalities. Success, esteem, and fame cannot be bestowed upon you effortlessly; only wealth can be inherited if you have ancestral assets. For this, it is also essential that your predecessors have left you some property, only then can you acquire wealth. With wealth, you can buy worldly possessions, but you cannot buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes numerous years for a person to earn respect or fame, and it takes merely a moment to lose it by getting into a dispute or by committing a shameful act.
