

History is full of such successful people who start their journey in a very difficult situation but later on, they become most successful and famous.

If ^{Then} your forefathers have wealth than it can be spoon-fed, but honour, respect and fame cannot be earned easily. often men spend decades to earn respect that can be vanished in a moment.