History is replete with successful people who started their lives under the most adverse circumstances but in the later course of life, they became the most accomplished and successful personalities. Success, respect, and fame are never served to you, only wealth can be served to you on a plate that also depends on one condition, that your forefathers must have it. Wealth can buy worldly luxuries but it cannot buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes decades to earn respect while only a moment to ruin ^{or} disgrace it.
