

If the world does not attract you, if due to fear of God, you have tears in your eyes; if thought of hell instigates fear in you; if you worship God in such a way like it should be; if doing good deeds attract you and you stop yourself from doing evil deeds, then you are righteous.

Some have goodness in them and some achieve goodness. To have good virtue is a stroke of luck.

To be righteous, it takes continuous effort to know about oneself.

So far, it takes time and one has to bear hardships.