History is full of examples of successful people who started their lives under most difficult circumstances, but later on they became very successful and renowned personalities. Success, respect and fame are never served on a platter. Only wealth can be handed to you in such manner, and even for that, there is a condition that your ancestors must have owned a property. Only then you will inherit it. With money you can buy materialistic things but not happiness. Sometimes it takes decades for a person to earn respect, while a single moment is enough

History is replete with exemplary individuals who commenced their lives in exceedingly challenging circumstances, yet ultimately became illustrious and renowned personalities.

Success, esteem, and fame cannot be bestowed upon you effortlessly; only wealth can be inherited if you have ancestral assets.

For this, it is also essential that your predecessors have left you some property, only then can you acquire wealth. With wealth, you can buy worldly possessions, but you cannot buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes numerous years for a person to earn respect or fame, and it takes merely a moment to lose it by getting into a dispute or by committing a shameful act.
