Translation:

Owing to the fact that, you are weary of the world, the fear of Allah makes you teary-eyed, the mere thought of hell frightens you, you offer your prayers the way you must / ought to be, you perform good deeds and avoid bad ones, proves that you are righteous.

Some people are inherently righteous while some become one. Being angelic is fortunate while the process of becoming one is about continuous sanctification and struggle. It takes both the time and the endurance of difficulties.

Good attempt!
