

Intellects Purpose and Their Life

Title needs improvement. Indent the paragraph.

For every educated and well-trained person, money is not the primary purpose of life. Although they like it, yet it is not the purpose of their life. For instance, soldier is paid for his job, but the sole purpose of his life is to defend his country in the battlefield. Similarly, clergy's purpose of life is to preach. Also, for a well-trained doctor curing his patient comes first to any material gain. So, for all intellects money comes second to their work.

(Precis: 83)

Do not include examples in precis. Just give their gist.