Punctuate the following passage:

03/05

As the rain poured outside, the detective turned to the suspect and said, "I know, you're hiding something." The suspect looked away then muttered, "What makes you think that?" "Your silence for one", replied the detective. "Besides, you were seen near the warehouse that night!" "That's impossible," he snapped. "I was out of town." "Really?" the detective leaned forward.

placed a photo on the table
"Care to explain this?" then?
the suspect stared at the image. His eyes narrowing
"Where did you get that?"
he whispered. "That doesn't matter", said the detective.
"What matters is the truth."

Avoid Repetition of ideas

Answer-1

Bashiran's family continued collecting charity even after becoming financially stable as they did this when they were poor. They did not reveal that they were no longer in need.

because with the passage of time they became greedy and selfish. As the donors also used to give them charity without verifying that they are in need or not. Bashir's family wanted to collect more and more money and they never valued laws and humanity after becoming well-off.

Answer-2

The charity distribution in karachi is effective enough to meet the needs of poor but there are loopholes in this system of charity distribution. The people who used to get donation when they were in need continue getting them even after becoming financially stable. So they are doing injustice to those who are really in need and the donors also give without verifying the recipients' needs. It results in ultimate failure of system as the charity is going in wrong hands.

Answer-3

The writer mentioned people who get charity even after becoming rich and stated that these kind of people justify their evil act by saying "No business is bad and no religion is greater than business." This sentence means that these people have made business a kind of their religion and they don't hesitate to violate laws set by religion as they are greedy.

and selfish with motive of only expanding their business.

Answer-4

People like Bashirian's family hesitate to stop collecting charity because they pursue it as a business. They have a deep down fear
of becoming poor again
if their business end.
So they continue collecting charity to satisfy their hunger of getting more and more.

Answer-5

The passage suggests that the long-term impact of unchecked charity practices on Society✓ is very severe. This will cause charity ending up in wrong hands and leaving the poor in need. This will ultimately disrupt the main objective of charity distribution in society. The donors will end up wasting their charity by giving it to wrong recipients who are not in need. It will challenge the rule of law in society.
