

Delayed Marriage: Causes and Consequences:-

Outlines:-

1. Introduction:-

- Attention grabber!
- General statement
- Thesis statement.

Delayed marriage, driven by educational pursuits, career priorities, economic challenges, and evolving social norms, presents both opportunities for personal growth and challenges to family life, fertility, and social demographics.

2. Causes of Delayed Marriage:-

2.1 Educational Aspirations

2.2.1- Increasing pursuit of higher education.

2.1.2 Delay until academic goals are achieved.

3.1. Career prioritisation.

3.1.1 Establishing financial stability before marriage.

3.1.2 Desire for professional growth and promotions.

4.1. Economic Constraints:

4.1.1 Rising living costs and housing expenses.

4.1.2 High cost of wedding ceremonies.

5.1. Changing Social Norms.

5.1.1 Shift in traditional gender roles.

5.1.2 Growing acceptance of late marriage and cohabitation.

6.1 Consequences of Delayed Marriage:-

6.1.1 Demographic impacts.

6.1.2 Declining Fertility rates.

6.1.3 Imbalance in population growth.

7.1 Family planning challenges:-

7.1.1 Difficulty in conceiving at older ages.

7-1-2 Smaller family sizes and fewer children

8-1 Social and ~~Economic~~^{Emotional} effects.

8-1.1 Risk of social isolation and loneliness.

8-1.2 Difficulty in finding a compatible partner later in life.

9-1 Economic and personal Benefits.

9-1.1 Greater financial stability before marriage.

9-1.2 Increased emotional maturity and readiness for long-term commitment.

Conclusion:-