Q7 TRANSLATION:

04/10

In her autobiography, Hellen Keller mentioned a unique wish: if she could have her sight for three days, how would she live her life. On the first day, she would look at the faces of her loved ones so that she can know how love shines in their eyes. On the second day, she wants to see the beauty of nature such as rays of sunlight, the greenery of the trees, the colors of flowers, and the blueness of the sky. On the third day, she wants to see the charms of the world like the hustle and bustle of markets, the lights of the theater, and the wonders of the art. So that, she can observe the creative ventures of man.

According to her, this gift of three days would be equivalent to turning darkness of a lifetime into light.

Grammar is ok.

There are practical reasons for joining the service as it offers job security, decent pay, respect and influence in society, and access to corridors of power. However, some aspirants become fascinated with the lifestyle portrayed on social media by some civil servants. The process of qualifying the exam has become more a measure of self-worth than self-growth. Now, public service runs side by side with being an influencer on social media. Some take it as an inspiration while others think that social media portrayal is distracting the youth from actual work and responsibility. Still, youth should explore this career option.

Ultimately, the image of civil servants, both on and off screen, has become as influential as their actual authority.
