Translation into English

I wish we could play games like Street and Stick, finding treasure, Bapoo tapoo, and hide and seek again. If those old days could revive, then we could have felt the happy and tension-free moments again. we could have run and laughed in the streets with our friends and forget the little fights during playing. Those days are left as ^{mere} memories today, and heart often feels ~~the~~ misses those moments when life was simple, pleasant and stress free

Q NOS (B)

Punctuation

Two little frogs were playing about at the edge of a pool. When an ox came down to the water to drink and by accident trod one of them, and crushed the life out of him. When the old frog missed him she asked his brother where he was. "He is dead, mother", said the little frog. "An enormous big creature with four legs came to our pool this morning and trampled him down in the mud." "Enormous was he? was he as big as this?" said the frog, puffing herself out to look as big as possible. "Oh yes! much bigger", was the answer. The frog puffed herself out still more. "Was he as big as this?" said she. "Oh yes, yes! mother, much bigger", said the little frog and yet again she puffed and puffed herself out till she was almost as round as ball, as big as she began. But then she burst.

Precis:

In the court of law, ad hominem is practised when the attorney for defense cannot shake the legal arguments and start abusing the opponent attorney by discrediting him. A young lawyer Lincoln used this practice in one of his first jury cases. When fine legal points were against him, his ad hominem won the case. This has been practised for a long time. This was also practised in the case of president Eisenhower in nomination of 1956, and in case of Franklin Roosevelt in 1944.
