

English (Precis and Composition)

Q2:

Make a precis of the following text and suggest a suitable title.

~~The~~ Examples of Degrading Opponent Over Arguing

The writer explains that this fallacy was prominent in a scene in a British Court of Law when attorney for defence was told by colleague to put all efforts on degrading the opponent attorney rather than presenting arguments. Lincoln a young lawyer and his opponent presented their skills of ad hominem and legal points respectively. On his turn, Lincoln degraded the opponents attorney by criticizing his style of wearing clothes. This fallacy like over generalizing has been around for a long time. The sophists must have used it freely and writer suspects it goes back to the dawn of the race. The health of President Eisenhower was an important consideration in nomination of 1956. Enemies of Roosevelt shamed him for his disabilities which is also example of ad hominem. (127 words)
