ad Hominem: The classic Way to Win from the Opponent
 A Tactical Misstep

Title:- ad Hominem: A Classic Way to Win from Opponent .

ad hominem fallacy involves attacking the person instead of addressing their argument.

Lincoln was a lawyer. In one of his many cases he was fighting for a case in which all the positive points went into his opponent's favor. His opponent was an experienced and to attack on personal capabilities of the opponent. When the trial was going on and the opponent lawyer stood up to present his points, Lincoln pointed towards his dressing that he wore the unconventional way accidentally. Lincoln convinced the jury that a person who couldn't even dress properly, how could he defend anyone. Consequently, Lincoln won the case. Author emphasizes that this is the tactic that has been used by many to out their competitors from the race as happened with woodrow wilson & Roosevelt. Their policies were targeted due to their health conditions.

Such tactics divert attention from substantive issues to irrelevant personal traits.

Two little frogs were playing about at the edge of a pool, when an ox came down to the water to drink, and, by accident trod on one of them and crushed the life out of him. When the old frog missed him, she asked his brother where he was. "He is dead, mother", said the little frog.

"An enormous big creature with four legs came to our pool this morning and trampled him down in the mud. ~~Enormous~~ was he as big as this", said the frog, puffing herself out to look as big as possible.

"Oh yes, much bigger" was the answer.

The frog puffed herself out, "still more was he as big as this" said she. "oh, yes yes mother, much bigger" said the frog, and, yet again she puffed

I wish we could play again our childhood games such as Tippit, treasure hunting, Hopscotch and hide and seek. If those old days could return, we could feel those moments of happiness & chill moments. We would play with our friends and forget those small fights during the play. Those days are now confined to memories and, we often long for those moments when life was simple, carefree and full of pleasure.
