

(1)

Causes and Consequences of Delayed Justice

B

Outline

① Introduction

② Thesis statement. It is reality that delay in justice has become the serious concern of today's society that needs immediate attention.

③ Causes behind the Delayed Justice

(i) Poor investigation and prosecution process delay the justice system.

(ii) Outdated methods and strategies ultimately delay the justice process.

(iii) Lack of accountability and the corruption lead towards delayed Justice.

(iv) Sudden transference of judges is a key reason behind the delayed Justice.

(v) Political influence restricts the justice process.

(vi) Fake information through social media is another main cause behind delayed Justice.

(2)

(vii) Tempering in medical reports delays the justice.

(viii) class difference is another cause of delayed justice.

(ix) Unavailability of valid and required evidences delay the justice process.

(4) Consequences of delayed Justice

(i) There will be no public trust on justice system.

(ii) Poor class will face injustice.

(iii) Crime rate increases in the society.

(iv) People face unnecessary wait in justice process.

(5) Way Forward

(i) Investigation process with modern scientific techniques leads towards the desired justice.

(ii) Every citizen must be given right to talk and prior in the justice system.

(iii) Proper accountability results in satisfactory outcomes in justice system.

(6) Conclusion

Short

③

Martian Luther king says that Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere.

Undoubtedly, this injustice is nothing but the result of poor investigation, corruption, sudden transference of judges and the political influence in whole justice process. Due to these all factors people face a lot of hindrances and ultimately lose hope for the justice that is their right being a citizen of state. Unavailability of particular evidences definitely leads towards the delay in justice. People with lower background face stress tension and long wait. The lower middle class undergoes unnecessary process and wait due to the sudden transference of judges who are working on a particular case. Moreover, it is a reality that delay in justice has become a serious problem of today's society. This delayed justice is a rising threat for the innocent and helpless class. But, still ④

there is a beacon of hope for the positive results if the justice process is done with the ~~modern~~ strategies with merit and transparency in the investigation process.