

ENGLISH PRECIS AND

39/80

COMPOSITION (MOCK-5)

PART - II

QUESTION NO. 2

Overall understanding the idea is ok

Title needs improvement.

Grammar is ok.

Ad Hominem Fallacy

The Ad Hominem Fallacy: A Tactical Missle

06/20

The author describes by an example of a case in British court of law that how misleading ideas and irrelevant arguments can alter the judgement of the court. According to the author, if a lawyer has no strong arguments for progress in a case, he can attack the person instead of addressing their argument. He can highlight illogical details of the opponent to divert the attention from main argument. This phenomenon was, similarly, used by a young lawyer Lincoln. He showed his skillfulness by using 'ad hominem'. His counterpart was an extraordinary lawyer with strong arguments and deep knowledge. But Lincoln attacked his opponent's personal sense of dressing rather than defending the argument. This diverted the judgement and Lincoln won the case. This misconception

Precis should be one 3rd of original passage

Your passage reflect the original idea

Don't take direct sentences from the passage

It is not the narration do precis

Title should be self-defining and self-explanatory to the passage

Always write in third person has been deeply rooted in the history from times of Sophists to the times of President Eisenhower and Franklin Roosevelt. This harmful phenomenon is being practiced to manipulate decisions.

Such tactics divert attention from substantive issues to irrelevant personal traits.

QUESTION NO. 3

10/20

Length of Answers is enough
Avoid Irrelevant Ideas and Detail
Avoid Repetition of ideas

During the 1971 war, Captain Ahsan Malik was assigned to defend the village of Kamalpur on the East Pakistan border with 140 soldiers from 31 Baluch. His bravery was praised by his Indian opponent Field Marshal Sam Manekshaw who also requested Pakistan to award Ahsan Malik on his bravery in the war. Resultantly, he was awarded with Sitara-e-Jurat. Courage with honesty and morality is always rewarded and remembered even by the enemies.

Answer no. (2)

American pilot Charles Brown and German pilot Franz Stigler met forty years later. They became good friends due to the goodness and morality of Stigler who did not shoot his defenseless enemy despite having the power to do it. The outcome of the meeting was their eternal friendship despite being enemies during war-time. It was all possible by the goodwill of Stigler alongside courage and bravery.

Answer no. (3)

True bravery does not only mean to defeat the enemy by taking innocent lives; rather it means that one should maintain one's moral values even in the battlefield. True dignity of war lies with courageous soldiers who do not take claims for granted or ~~and~~ justify brutality by naming it bravery. This honesty is the quality of a true warrior and he leads by an example. Hence, morality is the true bravery beyond fighting.

Answer no. (4)

Acts of kindness and courage effect former enemies by softening their hearts towards each other. Their relation grows beyond battlefield in the form of eternal friendship just like two pilots from America and Germany who had a long lasting friendship even after forty years and beyond. Similarly, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's kindness and virtue is remembered till date.

Answer no. (5)

If Franz Stigler had shot down Charles Brown's B-17, Charles Brown would have died. They would never be able to be friends with each other. Stigler recalled his commander's warning of not shooting an enemy in a parachute and saved Brown's life and also escorted him safely through German defenses. If this was not the case their story would never have existed to inspire generations and it would be considered as death of humanity and morality during wars.

QUESTION NO. 5

02/05

(A)

The doctor gave me a prescription for my cough.
Nowadays Makne studies for the whole day.
Throw this pen into the dustbin.

While walking ~~near~~ ~~the~~ bank of river, ~~Wardha~~ ~~Wardha~~ saw a large number of ~~daffodils~~ daffodils.

On the examination you have ~~to~~ answer all the questions <sup>within</sup> in an hour.

Punctuation

Two little frogs were playing about, at the edge of a pool, where an ~~one~~ <sup>one</sup> came down to the water to drink. And by accident, trod on one of them and crushed the life out of him. When the old frog missed him, she asked "his brother where he was: "He is dead, mother!" said the little frog. "Am enormous big creature with four legs came to our pool this morning and trampled him down in the mud." "Enormous was he? Was he as big as this?" said the frog puffing herself out to look as big as possible. "Oh yes, much bigger!" was the answer. The frog puffed herself out. "Still more? Was he as big as this?" said she. "Oh, yes, yes mother! Much bigger!" said the little frog and yet again she puffed and puffed herself out till she was almost as round as a ball, ~~As big as~~ ... she began but then she burst.

QUESTION NO. 4 03/05

- (b) I am one of those persons who cannot describe what they feel.
- (c) Of novel and poetry, the latter is more important. ~~than that of~~
- (d) Reading poetry gives greater delight than reading prose.
- (e) The professor and orator is dead.
- (f) You ~~do not~~ need ~~to~~ rebuke him.

QUESTION NO. 6 10/10

- (1) Majid asked if that was his house.
- (2) The judge ordered to call the first witness.
- (3) He told that he had knocked on the door but she had not answered. ✓

(9) The boy's mother said to not blame him for the accident.

(10) He suggested to submit their nomination papers as independent candidates. ✓

QUESTION NO. 7

I wish we could play the games of gilli danda, 04/10 treasure hunt, <sup>hopscotch</sup> holi, and hide and seek again like before. If those old days had returned, we would have felt the same happiness and moments of joy again. We would have played and laughed with our friends and we would have forgotten the petty fights during the play. Those days have now remained as only memories. And my heart often misses those moments when the life was simple, beautiful and carefree.

Attempt in idiomatic and proverbial manner
Focus on grammar please
Do not attempt word by word