

Khalid javaid

38165/33

Systematic flaws in Pakistan's Education system and remedial measures.

Outline:-

I - Introduction

II - Causes of Flaws

- A. Low budget allocation
- B. Poor Policy making
- C. Poacher, a soldier without arms.

III - Effects of Systematic flaws.

- A. Educated but unskilled youth
- B. Poor literacy rate
- C. Less economic contribution by women.
- D. Social problems.

IV - Remedial measures.

- A. Education in national language
- B. Improvement in budget.
- C. Incentives for scholars.

V - Conclusion.

Pakistan is one of the densely populated countries of world, with a high amount of educated youths. It can change the fate of nation but the systematic flaws in education system are a hurdle in getting momentum from it.

Following are the major flaws in education system of Pakistan:

A very low amount of budget is allocated for education sector, it causes lack of resources at early educational level. It affects the base of the whole building of education, arising an alarming number of students leaving school after primary education.

The policy of our developing country are prepared with help of foreign experts, or keeping a foreign developed countries model in view. These policies and models are not suitable for a poor society.

The teachers at all levels are putting their best efforts to prepare and educate the

DATE: / /

Children according to the future requirements but lack of resources are a hurdle in their way. Lack of regular trainings is also holding their pace.

Following are the major effects of education system's flaws:-

Our youth remains unskilled even after enough education as there are not enough facilities for them to implement their knowledge. Due to this every department had to train their employees after offering him a job.

Low amount of budget utilization fails to improve the literacy rate of country. A big number of children leave schools after say education, and the amount used over them is wasted.

Women in far areas are deprived of education as there are less separate institutes for them to get higher education. This is snuffing our talented.

women to participate in economic growth of the country.

The systematic errors in our system has caused many social issues in society.

The education has become a source of job rather than building of character. Unemployed educated people are becoming an easy target of anti-state organizations. They are demotivated and filled with anger and express it in various wrong ways.

Following remedial actions should be taken to kill the flaws in our educational system.

The education should be given in national language so that the students from rural back ground can also get high education easily. So far a student's bulge of energy is wasted on learning foreign language and he pays less attention to his basic purpose of degree.

The amount of budget for this basic element for progress should be raised. It will increase the facilities at all levels resulting in a positive change. It will raise the standard of early education resulting a change in the knowledge levels of children entering in universities for higher education.

DATE: / /

Incentives are an easy way to get maximum from a man. Incentives should be given to scholars and students performing better at their levels to get best out of them. Lack of monetary resources is keep many stars from shining. It is also a reason of brain drain from our country.

The conclusion of the whole discussion is that there are many flaws in our education system that are causing a hindrance in our economic and scientific developing. This requires an early change in our policies.

By giving a right direction to our educational policies we can utilize our youth in making of a modern developed Pakistan. Insha Allah.