Ajihad is a practice of interpreting the religious texts to come up with new adaptations with the changing times. It holds great significance as the World is evolving continuously, so Islamic teachings need to be interpreted to help Muslims to adapt to the changing times. Though Islamic world has stopped undergoing Jihad, there are significant benefits in adopting Jihad in its truest sense.

Concept of Jihad:-

The concept of Jihad is not new and used to be performed by Muslim jurists in the early years of Islam and even during the time of Holy Prophet (PBUH). It is the striving and finding out the truest meaning and interpretation of religious texts. It is an intellectual activity performed by Muslim jurists to better understand the text with change in time.

Meaning of Ijtihad:

The literal meaning of ijtihad is striving, seeking truth. and it is the interpretation of text both individually and collectively by a group of Muslim scholars.

Mujtahideen:-

The people and groups of people undergoing ijtihad are called Mujtahideen.

These are individuals having profound understanding of religion and qualifications to interpret them accordingly.

Scope of Qiyahad:

There are two opportunities for undergoing Qiyahad which are as follows

1) When Qur'an and Sunnah have not discussed about a specific matter and no ijma has taken place with mutual decisions.

2) Understanding the wording and meaning of religious text to find the generalities and particularities to find the application of text restricted or unrestricted and finding different meaning of the text.

Qiyahad can take place in the above two real situations and is open to various intellectual interpretations from qualified jurists and scholars.

Principle of Ijtihad:-

The principle of Ijtihad is that it can be adopted when the scope of Ijtihad is present and by the qualified scholars having profound knowledge of Islamic teachings and Holy Quran and Sunnah's text.

* In case of Ibadat:-

Ijtihad cannot be adopted in cases of Ibadat and religious obligations. No new interpretations is allowed as Allah Almighty has made it very clear in Holy Quran and Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) has practically implemented it through his Sunnah.

1. In case of Muamalat:-

Jihad is allowed in case of matters related to worldly affairs, which are called muamalat. Matters that would require interpretations and new understandings and adaptations due to change in time.

For example

- Cutting of hands in case of theft
- Killing by stone in case of adultery

Importance in light of Hadith:-

Holy Prophet (PBUH) allowed Jihad during his life and has promoted Muslims to undergo it to keep up with the changing world.

Holy Prophet (PBUH) said

"My community will never agree on something error"
error

Similarly:

"Devil can have his hand
on one individual but cannot have his hold on an entire community"

Thus it is advisable and almost essential to undergo Jihad by a group and not on individual basis and opinion.

Challenges in Adopting Jihad:

There are a number of challenges when adopting qiyas ~~with~~ some of which are as follows

1) Various Schools of Thoughts:

The presence of multiple schools of thoughts make it extremely difficult to come up a single, all-adopting interpretation of a text.

2) Lack of Qualified Jurists:

With the absence of religious knowledge and no focus on religious education -

There is a lack of qualified jurists who can undergo qiyas in its truest essence

3) Clash about authority and ## reliability of texts:

Some of the references and traditions are not acknowledged by all and creates different views about their authenticity. So the authority and reliability of these <sup>texts</sup> gets challenged.

4) Multiple Interpretations of legal texts:

The legal texts in Islam can be interpreted in multiple ways and would make it extremely difficult to agree on one of the interpretations and adopt them in legal practices.

5) Different Analogical reasoning:

Different jurists use different kinds of analogical reasoning and makes it difficult to come up with interpretations that the entire muslim community can agree on.

Conclusion:

The intellectual activity of Jihād to better understand religious text has its own sets of benefits and challenges. But complete absence of Jihād has left the Muslim Ummah stagnant as compared to the world with change in technology and time. Careful adoption of Jihād is needed to keep the balance of permanence and change in Islamic teachings.
