

The Role of Women in Political and Economic Progress

Outline

A- Introduction;

- a. Human being's evolution and role of Women
- b. Role of women
- c. Thesis statement

B. Understanding the Current Condition of Women in Political and Economic Spheres;

1. Under-representation of women in politics;
 - 1.1. Women in politics are far more less in numbers
2. Considering of women as passive recipients in economy

C. Role of Women in Political Progress;

1. Representation of other half of population;
 - 1.1. Women are about half of the population of the world
 - 1.2. Quote of Wolestonecraft: 'As a woman, I have no country'

2. Political legislation of women, by women, for women;

2.1. Different issues of women require proper legislations

2.2. Book; Women in Politics by Suzan Strange

3. More inclusive political framework;

3.1. Women in politics represent an inclusive political framework

3.2. World Bank report on US politics

4. Rise of new political debates and approach;

4.1. Women in politics provide new approach for betterment of society

4.2. Work of Bell Hook for international peace

5. Diversion from male-dominated war politics towards femininity-based peace politics;

5.1. Female supports liberal approach and Cooperation in international relations

5.2. Quotation of John S. Stresman:

'As a mother, a women know how precious a life is.'

D. The Role of Women in Economic Progress;

1. Reproductive role of women in economy;

1.1. Women reproduce labour, agricultural products and other items

1.2. 'Mosely's Approach' of
women in economy

2. Inflow of new ideas;

2.1. Women came ^{up} with new innovative ideas

2.2. Case study of Marie Curie

3. Better understanding of female-related health issues by female doctors;

3.1. Health is ~~the~~ ^a base for economic growth

3.2. Female doctors aid in cure of female health issue that results in healthy labour for country

4. Small-scale household industries ^{being} run by women;

4.1. Mostly industries owned by women

4.2. Case study of Pakistan, Bangladesh, where women run most small-scale industries

5. Availability of large labour force;

5.1. Women - half of population cannot be afforded as non-productive

5.2. World Bank report on Economic progress of China and role of women

E. Conclusion

Thesis Statement;

It is quite clear from the above arguments that despite their role being ~~consider~~ underestimated by many, ~~the~~ ^{the} women played transformative and innovative role in the political and economic progress of world.

Essay

Human beings have evolved so did their will - from their primal urge to survive to their sophisticated desire to make world a better place. During enlightenment period in the history of human evolution, women played effective role side by side men. ^{The} women altogether men have shaped society to progress in economic and political spheres. It is such an irony that their role is still underestimated in today's world. However, without them, world would ^{be} unable to achieve all the glories. To begin with, women in politics have represented half of the world population.

Apart from it, the political legislation for women was not possible without them.

In addition to it, the rise of new political debates for the betterment of ^{the} society is because of women.

Furthermore, women have diverted the power-politics of men towards feminin-^{related} peace approach.

Not only this but women also played major role for economic progress of state. First of all, the reproductive role of women provides fuel to the economic progress of ^{the} countries. Moreover, the inflow of new and innovative ideas in businesses provides impetus to economic growth. Another great role of women in economy is the management of small-scale industrial sector in many countries. Lastly, due to the productive role of women, the availability of large labour force promotes high productivity in the economic cycle of the world.

Thus, it is quite evident from the above arguments that despite their role being under-estimated by many, the women played transformative as well as innovative role in the political and economic progress of the world.