Punctuation

Early in the morning, as the sun rose, I decided to go for a walk.

The air was fresh, and the birds were chirping loudly. Suddenly, I saw a small dog running across the park. It seemed lost and frightened.

Unsure of what to do, I approached it slowly to avoid scaring it further.

Thankfully, a man came running and said, "Oh, there you are, buddy! I have been looking for you everywhere?"

Q NO 7:

Translation

The fragrance of the world could not be found out in the garden rather it is hidden in the happiness of the heart. Sometimes, we try to search the value of our life in worldly goods but the reality is that the happiness could only be found in the depths of heart. This happiness could not be found in any office or luxury life, rather in those moments when we touch our success and felt the peace of our soul. Most of the time, we ignore our little moments of happiness and search for huge success. But, when we listen our hearts than we discovered that the real happiness lie in those things that we can access easily.

Precis:

The future of oratory

QNO2:

Title:

Golden Age of Oratory and its Future.

Precis:

It is impossible to predict the future of oratory. In ancient times, it was regarded as the art of public speaking. However, with the advent of the printing age, the interest of people in this art declined over the time. The only survivor of the golden age of oratory is Sir Winston Churchill. He used to carefully craft his words and ideas before delivering them. He is perfectly regarded as an example of human speech as the volume of his speech will remain as an undying memory of ancient times.
