

Populism : A tool of Politics

The inclination of politicians revolves around rhetoric, flattery, and prudent evasions. In governance setting, their ideas reflect utmost cruelty. Upon queries, they hide their ineptness under terminologies. Moreover, one cannot overlook their inclination for promises that may vanish by time of results of elections. It is indeed a talent. Furthermore, their popular emotional tactics keep public engaged. Ironically, their skills to preserve their identity must be pondered on. Where they appear diplomatically before people and avoid scandals with shrewdness. In short, their intent remains merely rhetoric devoid of any reality.

Total words : 288

Precis words : 96

Question No. 3

1.

The production of renewable energy resources leaves a sizeable environmental footprint. As solar panels require cadmium and tellurium that are extracted through dangerous mining practices. Moreover, the steel and rare earth magnets required for wind turbines are manufactured through process disrupting ecosystem. Lastly, the lithium-ion battery production for electric vehicles require materials like cobalt, lithium and nickel. The extraction of such elements cause significant environmental woes.

2.

Electric vehicles are not much environmental friendly as lithium, cobalt and nickel extraction requires extensive mining. Moreover, if EVs is charged by electricity produced through hydro-carbons, it does not create any difference.

Moreover, the battery disposal is another challenge for EVs.

3. The challenge associated with the disposal of renewable energy after their life time span ends is that the process is not straightforward
and nor widely practiced,
often resulting in accumulation
of toxic waste.

4. The operational phase of renewable resources of energy is not aloof from pollution. As solar, wind and electric vehicles require backup of hydro carbons
and environmental unfriendly practices. The idea of supply chain makes it not immune to pollution.

5. The article proposes the limitation of renewable energy through a balanced perspective, careful management, and realistic expectations? As solar and wind installations require vast land, displacing wildlife and communities. Only by understanding such limitations, we can harness its potential prudently.

Question No. 4

(i) I will have completed this project by this time by tomorrow

(ii) If I knew the answers, I would have passed the examination

(vi) There has always been a fight among devil and divine

~~All kinds of stationery is sold here~~

(v) All kinds of stationery are sold here

(viii) The mother herself was searching for her young daughter.

Question 5.

(A)

A boy was gathering berries from a hedge. When his hand was stung by a nettle, smarting with the pain, he ran to tell his mother. He said to her, "I only touched it ever so lightly, mother."

"That is why you stung, my son. If you have grasped firmly it would not have hurt you at all in the least," mother replied.

(B)

(ii) up

(v) upto

(vi) upon

~~towards~~

(viii) against

(iii) over

Question 6

(A)

(vii) Keep fingers crossed :

Despite of many proposals, the manager kept his fingers crossed.

(i) Black and blue :

The companions were alleging to move their every black and blue confidently.

(v) Ballpark figure :

After the elections, he emerged as a ballpark figure.

(iv) Carry coal to Newcastle :

As per some analysts, the book reading is akin to carry coal to Newcastle in the technological era.

(vi) Bad hair day
After the stock market crashed, economists argued it ~~too~~ to be a bad hair day for investors.

(B)

(üü) The team of auditors monitored the task prudently.

- A student always respects his mentor

(vii) Allah is the most beneficent and the merciful.

- Walking regularly is utmost beneficial for health.

(iv) The complacent of the rules may argue the case.

- He ordered that the complaisant must be barred from entrance

(i) After the occurrence of crime, plaintiff claimed the damages from court.

- There exist substantive and plaintive room for negotiations.

(vi) The crevice of the lawyer was evident from his arguments.

- Besides the crevasse, there lies the truth.

Question No. 7

Among aspirants of competitive examination, there are some who perceive that contemplating books and keeping notes under the pillow in night will make them topper. Those are ones who pray for their success despite ~~practice of~~ preparation of two days.

In reality, neither any one has magical stick nor there is any shortcut to success. If one needs transparent results, it requires ~~unwavering~~ unwavering hardwork. Thus, next time when you find yourself thinking whether to study or not, remember that success never comes with fun, but attained through hardwork.