

QUESTION NO:4

Kashmir Problem BACKGROUND AND SOLUTION

INTRODUCTION

The Kashmir problem, the bone of contention between Pakistan and India has a vast background, based on biasness of India. India claim Kashmir as its integral part on the basis of instrument of accession signed by Hari-singh, ruler of Kashmir, over looking the limitations of 3rd June plan. Which demonstrated that the areas having muslim majority shall merge with Pakistan. However, the prospects of possible solutions of this issue depends on political will, mutual trust and sustained efforts by India-Pakistan.

It is my wish that as soon as your problem with Pakistan is resolved, - the wish of people of Kashmir should be taken to decide whether they want to join India or Pakistan.

~ LORD MOUNTBATTEN

Background of Kashmir Problem:

Stance Of Pakistan:

The stance of Pakistan submitted to UNSC is the division was on basis of 3rd June Plan which states muslim majority states will have referendum. As Kashmir was muslim majority area, there should be plebiscite: UN resolution, 1948. Therefore, Pakistan demanded plebiscite in Kashmir.

Stance Of India:

India claims Kashmir is integral part of India according to instrument of Accession signed by Hari Singh and Pakistan is an aggressor that has occupied the Kashmir. Therefore India requested UNSC to pressurize Pakistan to vacate the Kashmir territory.

SOME MANIFESTATIONS About
Kashmir, not a part Of India as Plebiscite had to be done:

Reply Of Lord Mountbatten On Instrument Of Accession:

When "Instrument of Accession" was brought to lord Mountbatten, he replied

"It is my wish that as soon as the problem of Pakistan is resolved, the wish of Kashmir should be taken to decide whether they want to decide India or Pakistan."

India's Prime Minister Nehru's Speech On 2 NOV 1947: Nehru said,

"It has been our policy all along that where there is dispute of accession of princely states. The wish of the people will decide the fate of state"

UN Charter (Article 2, Paragraph (7))

Till now, about 17 resolutions has been passed on the issue. But, UN Charter article 2 states,

"UN can not intervene in internal matter of any state".

By giving resolutions it is proved that it is ~~not~~ ^{not} a part of India

India - Pakistan Question

Nehru took the matter of Kashmir to UNSC as registered it as India-Pakistan Question, which clearly signified that they themselves agreed that it is a dispute between India and Pakistan not an internal issue of India.

Current Brutal Policies Of Modi; against Kashmir

Reversal Of Special Status Of Kashmir

5. Aug. 2019

Modi government abolished special status of Kashmir by revoking article 370 and 35 A, amending Indian constitution by ratifying ordinance issues from governor General of Kashmir, in Indian Parliament. This further exacerbate the situation, resulting in trade ban and disturbed ties among between both countries.

Pakistan's Policy And Kashmir:

Pakistan has adopted multidimensional approach to deal with post aug. 5. 2019 scenario. It approached international mediators and legally countered in UN, as this removal of special status was against UNSC resolution, 1949.

Prospects of Possible Solutions:

The prospects of possible solution depends on political will, mutual trust and sustained efforts.

Bilateral Dialogues Could Foster agreement and reduce Hostilities

In order to resolve the issue, India and Pakistan should resume direct negotiations focusing demilitarization, autonomy and confidence building measures. Maleeha Lodhi said

"Immediate task to prevent crisis is to manage tensions with India."

A plebiscite should be held it could reflect the Will of People:

There should be referendum held in Kashmir, under UN supervision as it will allow Kashmiris to decide their future.

Autonomy Of Kashmir Could Reduce Tensions

The revoked articles 370, 35A should be persevere as it will grant autonomy to Kashmir. Chatham house Kashmir: Path to peace survey showed Kashmiris wants greater autonomy.

Role of International Mediators; Could Solve the Issue

Neutral parties such as, UN, USA, OIC should mediate the issue, as they remained helpful in other conflicts such as "Camp David affords".

Involvement of Civil Society think tanks and Cultural exchange:

Track II diplomacy should be ensured as it will involve, civil society, think tanks and cultural exchange to foster mutual trust. Northern Ireland also adopted this peace process.

Conclusion:-

The Kashmir issue is a territorial and political issue between India and Pakistan since Partition. It requires a multifaceted approach. A combination of political will, dialogue, and international support is essential to resolve this long-standing conflict.
