

Q3 Synonym

- |    |            |             |
|----|------------|-------------|
| 1  | Concili    | Blunt       |
| 2  | Eloquent   | Expressive  |
| 3  | Alleviate  | Mitigate    |
| 4  | Exacerbate | Intensify   |
| 5  | Ubiquitous | Everywhere  |
| 6  | Tactful    | Reticent    |
| 7  | Abhor      | Hate        |
| 8  | Meticulous | Fastidious  |
| 9  | Prolific   | Productive  |
| 10 | Apathy     | Disinterest |

Q2

COMPREHENSION

Ans 1 The primary ~~for~~ reason of people fail to keeping their New Year resolutions lies within the goal they set ~~to~~ to achieve. People set their goals due to the outer pressure of the society or desires, rather <sup>than</sup> inside. Resolutions based on peer pressure or social construction, results in overwhelming and tiring effects, and efforts, which ultimately fail them to achieve their goals, leading to abandoning the resolutions of New Year.

ANS 2

Even though people are highly motivated still it tend to be ineffective in to achieve New Year's goals is because the lack of interest in them. People show short-term, temporary enthusiasm due to the social construction of goals and not from within oneself, need and choice. Another reason is that peoples' goal do not set their goal according to their realities of daily life. It often tend to be indifferent from the way they live in and the aim they are focusing at. Due to these reasons, people fail despite hopeful.

Ans 3

The psychological factor which keeps people making New Year resolutions is desire of human for revival. Human, every year, makes list to do, to change their lifestyle or to improve to a better one. They wanted to start new with New Year so that they can enjoy to the fullest and experience new change either of quitting bad habits or gaining good. This hope of renewal keeps them energetic to set goals over and over again, that one day they might achieve them.

Ans 4

To achieve a lasting change instead of making New Year's resolutions is to change the approach of aiming it. To make goals real and long-lasting, individuals need to focus on practical reforms than symbolic reforms that are similar to their personal norms and values and are according to their life.

Such approach will line up the steps to the main goal without losing hope, interest and enthusiasm. Only in this way they can apprehend ever lasting changes.

Q.1 PRÉCIS

TITLE: CORRUPTION: A SEED OF CACTUS

Most of the individuals are lacks ~~the~~ to apprehend the after effects of the smallest corruption they do to gain their interests. Nonetheless, such minute actions cultivates within the society eroding the foundation of trust and authenticity. Corruption, even though small, hinders the progress and construction of healthy society depriving the needy of their allocated resources and needs, ultimately impacting industries, ~~and~~ governments and societies. Additionally, corruption exaggerates inequality by helping the cheater ~~and~~ ~~start~~ to succeed, and leaving behind the honest and righteous, which further slims the social fabric. Researches reveals that seed of corruption grows and disrupts political stability economic growth and social structure. The author says, ~~once~~ one should be accountable of ~~their~~ <sup>ones</sup> even smallest decision that shapes the society. According to writer, the ~~society~~ world can become equitable by the collective efforts of everyone <sup>not</sup> to compromise on their values