QUESTION 1A.

PUNCTUATION

"My quaint Ariel," said Prospero, to the little sprite when he made him free. "I shall miss you yet you shall have your freedom." "Thank You! my dear master," said Ariel, but give me leave to attend your ship with prosperous gales before you bid farewell to the assistance of your faithful spirit."

Q1B.

John greeted Bob and asked him if he had heard the news about Jake. Bob denied and asked what had happened.

John told that he was terminated the day before and asked if he could believe that. Bob surprisingly inquired and said that he thought he had been doing well in his role. John replied that apparently there were some budget cuts and they had to let a few people go. It was really unfortunate. Bob said that was terrible. Jake had been here for years.

He further asked how was he taking it. John replied that not too well, understandably. He was shocked and frustrated and that he tried reaching out to offer support but he was still processing everything. Bob frustratingly said that it was too hard and that he hopes he bounces back soon. It's always tough when someone you have worked with for so long has to go through that. John said ~~it~~ agreed that ~~was~~ ^{is} a tough reality and that they would miss having him around the office and he hoped that he lands on his feet soon.
