

TEST-04Q NO1:

(A)

Punctuation:

"My Quaint Ariel," said Prospero to the little sprite when he made him free, "I shall miss you yet you shall have your freedom." "Thank you, my dear master," said Ariel, "but, give me leave to attend your ship with propitious gales before you bid farewell to the assistance of your faithful spirit."

(B)

Direct - Indirect

John asked Bob if he had heard the news about Jake.

Bob replied no and asked what happened.

John informed him that Jake had been terminated the previous day and asked if Bob could believe it.

Bob exclaimed in shock asking why Jake was terminated as he thought that Jake had been doing well in his role.

John replied that apparently there had been some budget cuts and they had to let a few people go. It was really unfortunate.

Bob said that it was terrible as Jake had been there for years and now he had taken it.

John said that Jake was not well as he was shocked and frustrated. He tried to reach out to offer support to Jake but Jake was still processing everything.

Bob exclaimed sadly that it was too hard adding he hoped that Jake would bounce back soon further adding that it was always tough when someone you had worked with for so long had to go through this.

John said that it was a tough reality and that they would miss having Jake around the office. He hoped that Jake would land on his feet soon.
