

Q# Precise

The writer is of the view that today governance is working like a theatre where politicians are acting like an actor. Mean that politicians are masters in making promises but when the election results comes their promises swept away with the winds of ballout counts. The writer exclaimed with sorrow that they are well trained in betraying public also these leaders do not work for public. Moreover, when these political leaders are trapped in scandals they escape like snake from it. However, the writer expressing that political leaders are more working for their self good and less for public good.

Title :

Politicians : Dual Faces

Q# 7: Translation:

Some aspirants of competitive exams are of thought that looking to books covers make them toppers. They are those peoples who are always in search of "shortcuts". So, if you want success in results you need to work hard. ~~Remember~~ Remember! Success comes through hardwork not through shortcuts.

Q5# Punctuation: (A)

A boy was gathering berries from a hedge when his hand was stung by a nettle smarting with the pain. He ran to tell his mother and said to her, "Between his sobs I only touched it ever so lightly mother." "That is why you got stung my son" said she. "If you have grasped it firmly it would not have hurt you in the least."

Q4# Correction

- ① I will be complete this project by this time tomorrow.
- ② All kinds of stationary is sold here.
- ③ I would pass the examination if I knew the answers.
- ④ Some stampers were ~~seen~~ standing at the door looking through the view-finder.
- ⑤ I wish I know them when they cheated on me.

Q5 (B): Prepositions.

- ① I am broke by him because he is a selfish friend.
- ② Every candidate tries to pull up each vote.
- ③ The poor live in their honest wages.
- ④ She came with the wealth on her father's death.
- ⑤ He is leaning on the wall as he is not feeling well.