million professional beggars. These beggars extract around $42 billion annually, which is more than 12% of Pakistan's GDP. Pakistan ranks in top position in the world giving index. Due to charity begging has escalated in Pakistan. On one hand where charity is often seen as a moral duty and a force for good, on the other hand, the charity and social service has perpetuated the begging. It has foster dependency and erod self-reliance. Moreover, the ~~the~~ charity is helping to spread begging across generations. Also due to charity people don't focus on providing skills to these beggars. and also the charity givers do not focus on long term solutions, which leads to more begging. The social service and charity as discussed has a dark side, some pragmatic measures must be taken to reduce begging. For example, the government and NGOs must provide accessible Rehabilitation program and enhance public awareness to stop charity that gives short term relief. Give
