

Part-III

Q#102 : Preci's.

Title: Governance and Politics ;
Theatre and Performance.

Precis: The politicians, claimer of integrity, are nothing but great performers in the theatre of governance. Here they evade every confrontation with their complex vocabulary. Not to forget their art of making promises like autumn leaves that last only till elections. Moreover they show ~~their~~ a theatrical prowess and chameleonic nature ~~by~~ ^{effortlessly} adapting to shifting ideologies, prioritizing self-preservation over public service. This proves that leadership is less about serving people and more about the art of acting.

Total wordcount = 29

Preci's = 76

Q#03: Comprehension.

1. What can be inferred about the environmental impact of renewable energy production compared to traditional fossil fuels?

Ans: It can be inferred that although renewable energy mitigates reliance on fossil fuels, but its production process is as much concerning as use of fossil fuels. It not only harms our environment by the pollution but also ~~disintegrates~~ ^{degrades} it as most of the raw material used can be mined, causing habitat destruction and soil contamination.

Q 2. How far the electric vehicles are environmental friendly?

Ans: Electrical vehicles might not involve emission of harmful vehicles during use but they are not as environmental friendly as they are claimed to be. Their manufacturing process ~~is~~ invol

Ans: The article suggests that the renewable energy is not entirely pollution-free during its operational phase as the intermittent nature of these system makes its reliance on fossil fuels and batteries necessary. Both these alternatives ^{add} ~~are~~ ^{toxics} ~~harmful~~ to our environment in the form gasses, as in case of fossil fuels, or chemicals like lithium and cobalt.

Q. How does the article propose addressing the limitations of renewable energy?

Ans: The article suggests that the limitations of renewable energy requires a more balanced approach. It should neither be treated as some miraculous solution with no harm nor avoided as a risk. Rather, one should work to improve its energy efficiency, and deal it with careful management and realistic expectations.

Q#04: Correct any Five sentence.

① I will have completed this project by this time tomorrow.

② They cheated me. I wish I knew them.

③ Looking through the view-finder, some strangers can be seen standing at the door.

④ All kinds of stationaries are sold here.

⑤ Always, there has been a fight between devil and divine.

⑥ A little elegance is left in those arrogant youths.

⑦ The mother was herself searching for her young daughter.

Q#05: Punctuate.

A boy was gathering berries from a hedge when his hand was stung by a nettle. Smarting with the pain, he ran to tell his mother and said to her between his sobs.

"I only touched it ever so lightly, Mother!" "That is why you got sting stung, my son," said she, "if you have grasped it firmly, it would not have hurt you in the least."

(B)

- (1) She came for the wealth on her father's death.
- (2) I am broke with him because he is a selfish friend.
- (3) He has gotten over all his hardships in his life.
- (4) Every candidate tries to pull in each voter.
- (5) The poor live off their honest wages.
- (6) The thief did not swear to God.
- (7) You have no right to jeer at the beggar.
- (8) He is leaning against the wall as he is not feeling well.
- (9)

Q#06 (A)

(i) Black and blue: Upon hearing the ~~elect~~ disgraceful accusations from his friend, he turned black and blue.

(ii) draw a blank: I always draw a blank while making a decision to leave a chance of repair.

(iii) bad hair day: Nothing is turning out well for me, I guess today is my bad hair day.

(iv) keep fingers crossed: She is keeping her fingers crossed ~~for~~ to find an investor ^{even} during her bankruptcy period.

(v) to get-off scot-free:

He always tries to get-off scot-free during office dinners using his ~~res~~ financial responsibilities as an excuse.

Q#03: Comprehension.

(B)

(iv) monitor: The police ~~are~~ is monitoring his movements ^{in case} ~~so~~ he ~~do~~ tries harm the reporter.

mentor: If you keep a friendly relation with your mentor, he will ^{guide} ~~help~~ you with sincerity.

(vii) beneficent: Milk has many beneficents including growth and strong bones.

beneficial: Drinking milk is beneficial for strong bones.

(iv) complacent:

Physical ~~good~~ health and mental health are complacent to each other as any harm to one ^{can cast} ~~has~~ its impact on the other.

complaisant

His complaisant ~~attitude~~ attitude makes him a favorable employee but hinders any possibility for his personal growth.

Q#07: Translate:

Some students, preparing for competitive exams, think that they will become a topper by only staring at their books covers or keeping notes under pillow at night. They are the same people who try to find a way of intercession even through their prayers after studying for only two days. The truth is neither anyone owns a "magic stick", nor knows a "short-cut" of success.

If one wants ~~top~~ exceptional results, he must put in exceptional efforts as well. So ^{when} next ~~at~~ time^{al} you are contesting over "whether to study or not" with cup of tea in your hand, remember, success is no joke, it can ~~not~~ be achieved by hard work only.