

Part-II

Q(2)

Title: The deceptive skills of politicians

Precis

Politicians have some rare and unparalleled talents of deceiving others. They skillfully use language to deceive others by making promises and evading questions. They trick others by performing political stunts such as taking pictures with babies and stray dogs to attain attention of their audience. They do all of these even turning scandals into political victimization case for self-preservation. Ultimately, it shows that modern leadership is less about serving the masses and more about perfecting the performance.

Q(3)

Part (1)

Renewable energy production ^{also} has environmental impact as it is not the panacea. Its system is developed by mining ^{of the} rare earth metals which require environmentally damaging mining practices. It generates huge waste due to its short life-span. Similarly, it aids in pollution by using fossil-fuels based batteries. However, its environmental impact is way less than the traditional fossil-fuels based energy.

Part (2)

~~Renew~~ Electric Vehicles (EVs) are not the silver bullet. Their production also results in significant pollution. The manufacturing process requires mining rare earth metals which causes habitat destruction and soil contamination. Furthermore, it uses fossil-fuel electricity to charge its batteries, making it environmentally damaging.

Part (3)

The challenges with the disposal of renewable energy systems after their end of lifespan are lack of recycling mechanisms and practices. ~~for~~ It tarnishes the green promises of renewable energy.

Part (4)

Renewable energy is not entirely environmental friendly during the operational phase due to its reliance on fossil fuel plants and battery storage. The former damages the environment with emission while the latter have supply chain notorious for environmental degradation.

Part (5)

The article addresses the limitations of renewable energy by realizing the limitations of it. Once it is done, then humans can hope to harness its potential responsibly.

X ————— X

Q (5)

(ii)

If I knew the answers,
I ~~will~~ would pass the examination.

(iii)

They cheat me. I wish I knew them.

(v)

All kinds of stationaries are sold here.

(viii)

The mother, herself, was searching her young daughter.

ix) vi)

There were always a fight between devil and divine.

α ————— x

Q(5)

Part (A)

A boy was gathering berries from a hedge, when his hand was stung by a nettle. Smarting with the pain, he ran to tell his mother, and said to her between his sobs. I only touched it ever so lightly, ~~mother~~ mother. That is why you got stung my son, said she. If you have grasped it firmly, it would not have hurt you in the least.

Q(5)

Part (b)

- i) for
- ii) up with
- iv) on
- vi) by
- viii) towards

Q(6) Part (A)

(i)

Both options were excellent which put Nkrum on black and blue.

(iii)

The judge after listening to the contentious issue could not make a judgement, therefore, he drew a blank.

(vii)

The youth crossed their fingers for environmental movements.

(viii)

Despite all the charges, the minister get-off scot-free.

x-----x

Q(6)

Part (b)

(i)

The plaintiff asked for speedy movements of file for quick decisions.

His plaintive cry saddened
his friends

(iii)

The guards needs to monitor the unnecessary movements of civilians around the border.

He is my mentor.

(iv)

US is a complacent party in Israel's genocidal war on Gaza.

They are complaisant of the new laws.

(vii)

They are the true beneficient
of the war

Water is beneficial for health.

Q (7)

Some of the aspirants of the competitive exams are those who believe that merely gazing the book cover or putting notes under the pillow at night will make them toppers. They are the ones who even try to find references in their prayers after two-days of preparation. Reality is that no one has any such "magical stick" or "short-cut" key to success. Unusual results demand unusual hard-work. So next time, whenever, holding a cup, your mind stuck on "whether to study or not" while holding a chai cup, remember, success is not a joke, it is achieved through hard work.