

Q No: 01

Sportsmanship: Elements and Characteristics

Sportsmanship is considered to have characteristic of fairness, self-control, courage and persistence differ him from other individuals. These interpersonal abilities are looked at the way how one behaves to a sport/player. Four elements of sportsmanship are being good form, the will to win, equity and fairness. All four elements are critical and balance between all components make ^{true} or sportsmanship.

Sportsman are seen as a role model and leaders in society. Sportsmen behaviour of winning and losing are captured very consciously. If he exhibits poor sportsmanship after losing a game he is called a "sore loser" and if he exhibits a poor sportsmanship after winning, he is typically called a "bad winner".

Sportsmen actions are observed closely to analyze his behaviours towards opponent team.

Question No: 02

(1)

Sensationalism influences upon the public's confused opinions by amplification of misinformation, rumours and conspiracy theories and unverified claims. Media frames issues in binary narratives that are challenging for public to comprehend such black and white manner. This incredible information and falsehood contribute to public confusion.

(2)

Media's role in framing issues can shape public perception in a way that oversimplifies complex matters or perpetuates binary narratives. Nuanced and multifaceted issues may be reduced to polarized view points, leading to a lack of understanding and an oversimplified worldview. This oversimplification of complex topics when presented in black and white manner frame issues as individual may struggle to comprehend the intricacies of complex topics.

(3)

24/7 news cycle is the constant bombardment of information, making it difficult for individuals to process and make sense of the vast amount of content.

This overload affects critical thinking by reducing people's ability to analyze credible information, building of narratives and leading towards cognitive fatigue.

(4)

Advertisement, Entertainment and news content may convey contradictory values leading to confusion about societal expectation and individual identity.

The portrayal of unrealistic standards, conflicting role models, and divergent cultural messages can contribute to a sense of disorientation and uncertainty.

The focus on creating controversy and capturing attention contributes in a polarized society where viewpoints are highlighted and lead towards societal confusion. The obvious chaos due to preference personal interests over ^{pure} societal existence

Question No: 03

Word

Opposite

Transgression

Observance

Enervate

Sincere

Flout

Improve

Coagulate

Harden

Daunt

Encourage

Balster

weaken

Amalgamate

Separate

Propitious

Hopeless

Procligious

Small

Intimidate

Help