Determinants of foreign policy can be divided into domestic and international determinant (A) Domestic determinants (i) Geography and Location The geography and location of state determines its foreign policy. The country which is land locked would have weak foreign policy. For instance, Central Asian Republics are landlock and depends on other countries for trade. Similarly, if a country is sorrounded by natural bearers, it would be secure For instance, USA is socated far from the Europe and enjoyed isolation. Thats why USA emerged as a big power. 11) Economic Size Economic Size also determine Determinant of Pakistan's Strategic culture and its implications Historically, Pakistan remained as security conscious state.

	Similarly hostile India and Similarly hostile India and  i rvendentist claims of Afghanistan greatly influenced towards strategic culture. Similarly, strategic culture is influenced by desire of Pakistan to active sovereignty and increase diversity of relations.

i)	Security concerns and formation Security concerns and formation of security alliances Pakistan born as a security conscious state. It? has a hostile India on its eastern border.
	As a result, Pakistan entered into CFATO and SENTO to secure itself. Similarly, Pakistan remained as non-NATO ally

× of USA during the cold war. ii) Equalization of military capabilities with India. Palcistan having security concerny in the region remained active in the equalitization of military capabilities. For example, paristan nuclear weapons arsenal growth is diretly linked with India's nuclear weapond growth-When India tested naiclear weapons in 1998, Pakistan - counter tested the nuclear weapons in may 1998. iii) Good relations with China: In 1962, Pakislan and China resolved their bilateral ferritorial issues This was done because palaistan could not to levate a hostile neighbour in the north so security concerns influenced the strategic cultive.

iv) Religion of a strategic culturels determinant of Pakistan. Islam remained as determinant of strategic cultive of Pakistan. Palastan's ideology is based on Islam. In making foreign policy decision, Pakistan take care that its religious teachings do not get effected. On the religious ground, Pakistan's mujahideen entered in war against Soviet Union 1979. Similarly, in Islam, a parson willed in war is named or myster (Shaheed) and winner is known of Ghazi. Thex things are prominent in military of Pakistan. V) Constructivism - A historical perspective on India is constructed on the basis that India is hostile. So it affected the pakistan's perceptive

	Day: in making decision about India in future. Similarly, China's is considered as friendly because of positive harrative towards it.
vi)	War on Terror Post 9/11
	After 9/11, USA warned Pakistan to either support them Or oppose them- Palastom was left with no shorce but to support USA in war on terror.
	Due to which, terrorist infiltrate into Pakistern and Pakistan hay launch many operations like Zarb-e-Azb and Istehkam's Palcistan
	Conclusion Strategic culture include the cultival influences on making decisions.
	Strategic cultive of Pakistan is determined by security concerns, equalization of its capabilities, achieving sovereignty and sole of Islam.
