Translation:

(Urdu to English)

When we were attentionless in our childhood every moment seems to be the time of joy and games.
But, reaching the adulthood burden of reality gives realization of our responsibilities. Now, dreams of past that were made by us sometimes become reality and sometimes a star that is far away.
Those who learn lessons from their previous mistakes have strong foundations for their future. Value your present because the moment that is in time is the only moment that can change our fortune. Remember, time never waits for anyone it opens doors of success for those who valued it.
