

PART 1 (MCQs)

38/100

Synonyms:

1. Aerobic ✗

2. Inevitable ✓

3. Energetic ✗

4. Timid ✗

3

5. Stubborn ✗

6. Shy ✓

7. Indigenous ✗

8. Forceful ✗

9. Intimation ✗

10. Confusing ✓

Antonyms:

1. Enliven ✗

2. Sincere ✗

3. Dilute ✗

5

4. Adulterate ✓

5. Encourage ✓

6. Weaken ✓

7. Separate ✓

8. Optimistic ✗

9. Small ✓

10. Auspicious ✗

Question # 2

(Precis)

It is impossible to forecast the future of oratory. The men rarely used the word 'orator' without slightly derisiony accent. The orators of ancient times engaged themselves on the basis of highest worth and value. Today, the case and attention given to the art of public speaking has declined. The written words lessened the interest of people in orator kinds of speaking. Sir Winston Churchill was the great orator of ancient times. He adopts no thought, no word at random, but takes much care of both the arrangement of his ideas and the language he used. He entered himself into the company of famous orators.

Total words = 105

Title: Future of Oratory is Impossible to Forecast

Question #3

(Comprehension)

(i)

'Word-of-mouth' approach is discussed in the passage. In this approach, the company recruited a handful of carefully chosen suburban mothers and they advertise the company product by spread the word among their friends.

1

(ii)

From Walter Cox's statement, it is inferred that we can blend the social and economic advantage to business advantage.

1

The combination of social ~~and~~ activities and economy can be used for the ~~ad~~ benefits of business.

(iii)

The internet can magnify the effect of the blend of social and economic for the advantage of business on internet. People are connected on various platforms so reached the advertisement to many people in less time. and the

2

(iv)

When Microsoft sent laptops with its new Windows Vista software to influential bloggers in an effort to get them to write about it, the resulting online discussion 2
ignored Vista and focused instead on the morality of accepting gifts and the ethics of word-of-mouth marketing.

(v)

The challenge for marketers is creating the right kind of buzz and learning to control it. Negative view spread just as quickly as positive ones,

3
so if a product has flaws, people will soon find out.

Question #4

(Correction)

(3)

I saw him yesterday at the market.

(2)

6

The scenery of Kashmir is breathtakingly beautiful.

(6)

He is sending to me in the office.

(7)

The news is good to be true.

(1)

Neither of the two sisters are coming to the party.

Question # 5

(Punctuation)

1. Don't take revenge of these slight injuries. X

2

2. He distributed money among the poor.

4. His words do not correspond with his actions. X

5. I was disappointed on Akbar's insincerity. ✓

7. But officials consider themselves responsible for none. X

Question # 5 (b)

(Punctuation)

Early in the morning as the sun rose
I decided to go for a walk. The air was fresh and the birds were chirping loudly. Suddenly, I saw a small dog running across the park. It seemed lost and frightened unsure of what to do.

I approached it slowly to avoid scaring it, further thankfully a man came running and said, "oh! there you are buddy I've been looking for you everywhere."

2

Question # 6 (Pairs of words)

Pound: The salesman bawling the floors from a steel case.

Poize: The clothe has poizes in it.

setup: The director asked to setup
 the stage for shouting.

set upon: The beachies asked students to set upon the de chairs.

Casual: He is wearing casual clothes.

✓

1

Question #7

(Translation)

The ~~winner's~~ largest fragrance is not in the ~~garden~~, ^{rather} but it is hidden in the happiness of heart. Sometimes we search it in the important things of life. But the reality is that the biggest happiness is that which we found in the depths of heart. This happiness is not in the life of office or ~~or~~ living without problems, ^{rather} it is in that moment when we touch our achievements to feel the ^{our} peace of soul.
Sometimes we dismiss the little joys happinesses of our life and remain in the search of large achievements. But when we listen ~~to~~ to the voice of our heart then we discover that real happiness is in those things which we found easily.

