

Farzeen Ali Khan

Discuss/V. imp Prep - NOA

18/50

Antonym:

① (c) Conformity ×

② (d) Exhaust ×

③ (c) Accept ✓

④ (d) Composure ×

⑤ (d) Small ×

⑥ (d) weaken ✓

⑦ (b) Separate ✓

⑧ (a) Optimistic ×

⑨ (a) Small ✓

⑩ (a) Encourage ✓

5

Q No 2:

Comprehension

Q No 1;

Most media platforms, particularly social media, are promoting click-worthy news over accuracy and credible information. This sensationalism in media contributes to public confusion, as they find it challenging to distinguish between rumors, misinformation and true or credible information.

2

Q No 2;

Media's role in framing issues can impact the person's ability to understand complex issues, as it oversimplifies the complex topics. When these complex topics presented in ~~their~~ clear cut manners, these individuals becomes confused because of their lack of understanding and oversimplified world view.

2

Q No 3;

3

✓

The 24/7 news cycle contributes to the overload of information and makes it difficult for people to process and analyze information beyond their capacity. This overload cause mental fatigue and ~~affec~~ that resultantly impact critical thinking.

: 3/5

Q No 4;

The conflicting cultural messages from media convey unrealistic ideas that influence societal expectations and contribute to a polarized society.

They prioritize sensationalism and divisive content to get more views and readership, thus promoting false and unrealistic narratives.

These narratives create confusion about social expectations and individual identity.

2

.6t

Q No 1;

Precis

Sportsmanship - Key
Elements 1

Sportsmanship is the fine qualities of a sportsman, that he shows, and reacts accordingly, in a situation in sports. A good sportsman not only desires to win but also willingly sticks to the rules of fairness and equity.

Instead of competing and winning at any cost, true sportsmanship lies in the virtues of fair dealings. In most of the sports, elite level sportsman sets the standard of sportsmanship according to their desires and becomes role model. Modern sporting culture emphasize more on winning rather than promoting sportsmanship. Due to this, ^{some} sportsman cheats and breaks rule which become normal in sports. Some losers, instead of making themselves accountable, blame others and make alibis. Similarly, some winners brags about their victory and insults their opponents. These kind of behaviours are against the idea of sportsmanship, and impacts the performances of the teams. It also rejects fairness and equity in sports and ^{also} demoralizes team-players.

:0t

3