

Question: 2

- 2) Make a precis of the following passage and suggest a suitable title.

Politicians: The Unparalleled Actors

09/20

Politicians, lacking integrity and probity, have amazing verbal abilities. At the stage of governance, politicians are the masters of art of linguistics. They have the ability to present bombastic answers to merely simple questions and leave the inquisitor in the puzzle of words. They have also mastered the art of presenting and forgetting promises according to the need of the time. Furthermore, their emotional theatrical performances at public forums are more entertaining and more powerful than both pen and sword. Moreover, they are also figures of self preservation, flawlessly switching and adopting ideologies; and quickly escaping scandals. In a nutshell, their leadership is all about perfect performance rather than a public service.
