Attempt in idiomatic and proverbial manner

Focus on grammar please

Do not attempt word by word

There are some students, preparing for competitive exams, who think that they will become toppers only by ^{gazing} opening the book cover and placing notes under their pillows at night. These are the people who want to be facilitated even in their prayers, after preparation ^{one day preparation} of some days!

The reality is, no body has "magic stick" nor there is any "shortcut" of success. For the successful results, extraordinary hardwork is required too. Hence, next time when you ^{you're thinking} "whether to study or not", while holding a cup of team, remember, success never comes easily; it comes with hardwork!

success doesn't come from shortcuts, it comes from rolling up your sleeves and putting in the hard yards!

Political Leadership: Performance over Service

Grammar is ok.

The antics of politicians in the theatre of governance Politicians are well equipped with the art to play around words. In this scenario, one cannot dare to question their motives. Similarly, they promise about various things before elections, but after gaining votes they do not fulfill their promises. Despite the fact, they do not fulfill their commitments; they know how to gain public sympathy. Moreover, they know how to protect themselves by bringing themselves out from scandals with no difficulty. They focus on portraying themselves as true leaders, rather focusing on improving their public service performance.

Renewable energy production environmental impacts as compared to traditional fossil fuels, they are not completely environment friendly.
It is a resource-intensive process. They require rare earth elements, whose extraction
causes significant environment
damage through mining practices.
Moreover, significant greenhouse gases emits during manufacturing of components required for renewable energy production. Therefore,
env. renewable energy production
is not completely environment friendly.

Common perception is that electric vehicles (EVs) are completely environment friendly. However, the fact is, these production results into significant environmental damage. For instance, lithium-ion batteries require extensive mining of materials, destroying habitat, contaminating soil, and increasing water usage. Moreover, improper recycling of batteries leads to toxic waste. That's why, they must not be considered as a sole solution to reduce pollution.

These are various challenges associated with the disposal of renewable energy systems after their lifespan ends. For instance, recycling of these components is not simple. It involves complex procedures. Moreover, recycling of these components is also not widely practiced, leading to accumulation of toxic waste. Therefore, it is necessary to ~~implement~~ ^{ensure} proper recycling of these components to protect the environment.

(4)

According to the article, renewable energy is not entirely pollution-free during its operational phase due to the following reasons. Firstly, solar and wind power need backup from fossil fuels plants or reliance on battery storage.
