

Q2: Preci°

modern civilization and moral decay

The Plague of wealth

Any civilization has a downside of progress, moreover, the contemporary one is plagued by the appetite for wealth. Conscience has eclipsed by materials and the individual mechanism of right and wrong is overtaken by the love of wealth. Individual peace, institutional integrity and state policy bow before it. This overwhelming pursuit of wealth has led to distrust in ordinary interactions. Furthermore, individual qualities such as piety, tolerance and humility are compromised over material. The reversion of this trend needs the reclamation of moral conduct to mitigate its effects.

Q7:

Translation

Margaret was an old age woman, who used to go to London's Embankment Train station to hear an announcement "Mind the Gap" in the voice of her deceased husband, Oswald Lawrence. This announcement was recorded in 1970s and after the death of Oswald, Margaret listened it to feel the closeness of her husband. However, in 2012, when the voice was replaced by an electronic voice, Margaret contacted Transport for London. When the department recovered about her feelings, they rehired the voice of her husband. Now, that announcement full of loving voice, happen everyday.
