

"Comprehension"

Q#1:

Ans: The text has lamented over the condition of the ordinary people. They have no longer been embodied with the quality of finding good in others. This has impacted their moral conduct and life.

Q#2:

Ans: The difference between an ordinary man and an artist lies in the quality of finding good in others. An ordinary person does not value the beauty in others. In contrast, an artist finds beauty in everything. Due to this habit, he adds beauty in whatever he does.

Q#3:

Ans: We can make our life beautiful and charming by following the footprints of an artist. An artist finds beauty in everything and adds it in his work. Likewise, we should also find good in others and do good to others.

Q#4:

Ans: It means that finding good in others is not only a source of happiness, but it is an essential quality. It should be adopted by everyone.

Q#5:

Ans: Yes, both the art and beauty affect our moral and life. By building the habit of praising art and its beauty, we become habitual of finding good in others. This changes our behavior towards others. As a result, our life becomes beautiful and charming.
