

A thing of beauty is a joy forever

The phrase "A thing of beauty is a joy forever" describes the timeless power of beauty that uplifts and nourishes our souls. Beauty is something immortal that becomes more profound with the passage of time.

Unlike the pleasure of materialistic objects that fade with time and objects wear-out, the beauty of any thing whether art, scenery or literature is eternal which grows with time. Beauty lingers long after the event has occurred. It has ~~several~~ various good impacts on human.

Scientific studies show that beauty reduces stress and increases happiness.

Whenever, a man is sad or in stress, he gets refreshed when he thinks of a beautiful memory. No matter how old ~~the~~ a memory is, it makes a man happy. Moreover, a beautiful memory binds people of different backgrounds. For instance, a memory of a sunset, song or an event reminds the friends and people present at that time. Similarly, a couple becomes happy after thinking of a memory of time they spent together in past. Furthermore, the universe, specially earth which is full of beauty and this beauty is never ending. The sky, the stars, and the mountains all uplift the human soul. Although, the ~~at~~ man made object may be beautiful, but their beauty diminishes with time and they wear out. However, the old stars shines the same and their beauty is ~~at~~ ~~at~~ never ending. Hence, a beautiful memory always stays in mind and with time it becomes a source of more happiness. This is the reason why people go to old places and listen to the old songs because they remind them of their beautiful time, they spent.
