

Translation

If the world does not attract you towards itself, if your eyes are filled with the fear of Allah, if hell's imagination makes you cry. Similarly, if you worship Allah in the way you should, if goodness attracts you and you stop while going towards evil, then you are a righteous soul. Being righteous is a continuous process of purification and struggle; however, it takes time and no one has to face hurdles.