Q1. Why most of us fail in our efforts for self improvement? (5)

Ans: Mostly, people are unable to achieve the goals of personal-development, even they struggle for it. There are two main reasons of this failure. Firstly, people set very impractical objectives for commitment. Secondly, people do not get enough time to meet their objective. Consequently, people fail in struggling process of self growth, because they set unrealistic and unmanageable goals.

Q2. Why it is basic mistake to announce our resolution to everybody?

Ans: Announcement of resolution to everybody is the fundamental error in process of achieving that resolution. On account of, people may give us sarcastic compliments which may appear hilarious in first place. However, such remarks may possess potential to affect our dedication for that resolution. Moreover, it sounds dumb and goofy in front of others, in case we are unable to maintain the consistency. Therefore, we should never share our commitments with others and keep them confidential.
