(1) Most of us fail to our efforts for self improvement because we aim too high and plans too much but we do not find time to carry out all of these plans and thus we fail.

(2) We often make a mistake of announcing our New Year Resolution to everybody because when we fail to achieve that resolution and fall back into our old ways, we even look more stupid. Publicly announcing our resolution makes failure more embarrassing.

(3) On New Year Eve, the writer could not carry out his resolution because he attended an over night party which gave him an excuse of not fulfilling his resolution.

- (4)
