

Translation

If the world fails to tempt you, if the fear of Allah brings tears to your eyes, if the thought of Hell instills in you a deep sense of accountability, if you worship Allah with the depth and sincerity that He deserves, if virtue pulls you closer and your feet hold back from walking the path of sin, then you are righteous. Some people are born righteous, while others strive to become. ~~So~~ Being righteous is a blessing, but becoming righteous is a journey of continuous purification and struggle. It takes time, and it demands enduring pain and hardship with patience and perseverance.