

"If the world does not pull you towards itself, if tears come to your eyes because of fear of Allah, if the thought of hell instills fear of God in you, if you worship Allah as it should be done, if goodness attracts you and you refrain from evil paths, then you are righteous. Some are born righteous, some become righteous. Being righteous is a fortunate thing. Becoming righteous is a continuous process of purification and struggle. It takes time and also requires enduring hardships."

If the world does not draw your attention towards it and with the fear of God your eyes get wet then you do not have to worry. If the thought of Hell creates the fear of God in your heart and you worship God like the way it ought to be then you are on a right path. Additionally, if good attracts you and your feet stops you from going towards sin to follow a virtuous person. Some people are righteous and others are in process of becoming righteous and it is the matter of destiny which is a continuous process of purification and struggle. This process takes time and challenges with pain are also a part of this journey.
