

Devotion Beyond Reward

The truly educated and courageous individuals do not make money their life's main objective. Instead, noble professionals find joy in their work beyond financial reward. Soldiers, clergyman, and doctors, when rightly trained, prioritize duty over income. For such people, money is a secondary benefit, not the ultimate goal.

Don't precis is fine but make it sure not to skip ideas