

A thing of beauty is a joy forever

The line, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever", explains that beauty stays alive in any form. Whether it is a special memory, a beautiful sense, or a spiritual moment, remain in heart and mind. Any kind of a memorable moment of life can become a joyful moment forever. For instance, the landscape of Pakistan, from the Karakoram ranges to the shores of the Arabian Sea, is naturally joyful and beautiful. It attracts both foreign tourists and local citizens. People come from different areas, along with their families, visit the Naran and Kaghan Valley at Gilgit-Baltistan and Neelam Valley in Kashmir where they enjoy themselves and admire the natural beauty of these areas. As Allama Mohammad Iqbal, the great philosopher and poet, once said, "Love for the beauty of one's homeland is part of faith." Therefore, beauty remains joyful and valuable, even though time passes and things change around the world.
